

USA Landscape Photographer of the Year 2016 Launches!

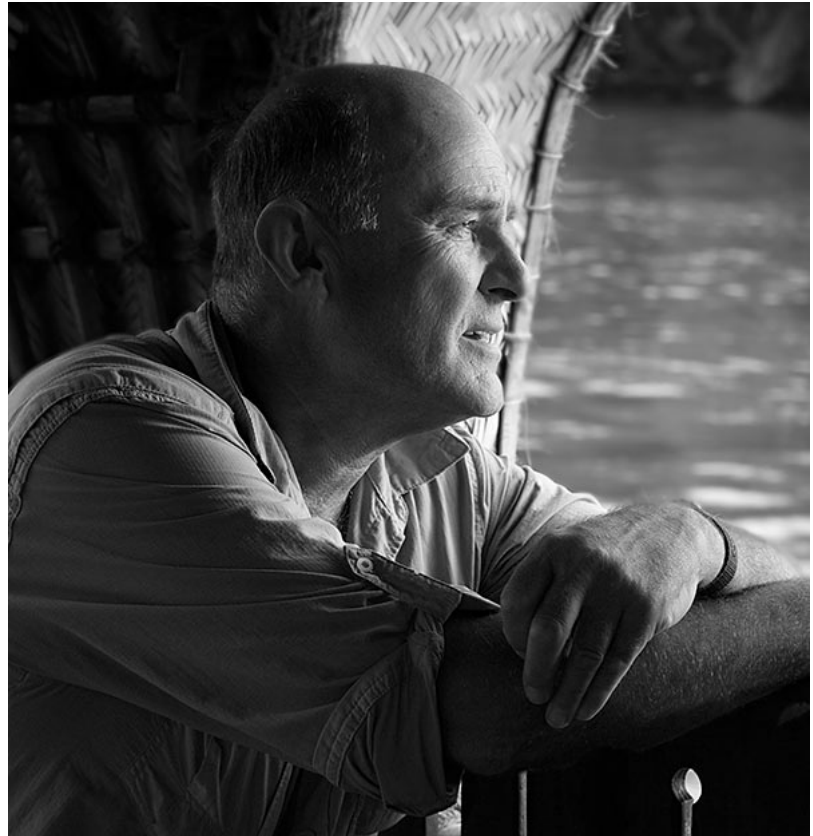

USA Landscape Photographer of the Year launches on JULY 15TH with the support of Amazon and DPReview. This year promises to be a greater competition with 15 world class landscape photographers on the judging panel including long time supporter Art Wolfe and founder Charlie Waite plus the introduction of new judges Sarah Marino, Charlotte Gibb, Lori Kincaid, Ian Plant and Paul Sanders. USA Landscape Photographer of the Year will also be at Photo Plus Expo in New York 20-22 October! Each month we will tell you more about the competition, our judges, our partners and supporters and of course the results of this years competition in the Autumn after the competition closes on September 15th. You can also visit our website for all competition information including full details of the categories open to both adult and youth classes, how you can enter and the awards and prizes. Just click on the beautiful images above and you'll be transported to our brand new website!

A few words from Charlie Waite....

Now in its third year the USA Landscape Photographer of the Year competition is the only truly international award that celebrates the amazing beauty and diversity of the North American landscape.

It gives me enormous pleasure to have the enthusiastic support from both Amazon and DP Review and between us we look forward to bringing together the very best of the landscape of the USA using the very best medium with which to do it; the camera.

USA Landscape Photographer of the Year invites you to make images that proudly demonstrate the astonishing urban and rural landscapes that the USA has to offer to the world.

It may be that you just have a few images where the light and the landscape in front of you combined together for a fleeting moment or perhaps your images arose from the tenacious process of planning, waiting and finally triumphing with a result that moves both you and all who look at it and of which you are most proud.

In each case you are invited to enter your images for an opportunity to win $15,000 and the acclaim of being USA Landscape Photographer of the Year for the overall Adult winner and $2,500 and the title of Young USA Landscape Photographer of the Year for the overall winner of the youth class.

Who are you as a landscape photographer.....find out within the Landscape of the USA.

What the Winner Says....

Classic View Landscape Photographer of The Year 2014 Jarrod Castaing – Metlako Falls

As if one piece of good news wasn't enough, I was delighted when Charlie phoned to tell me that not only had I won the Classic View, but I'd also been awarded Runner Up of the overall USA Landscape Photographer of the Year.

Travelling from Sydney, Australia to the USA, the diversity of the landscape is what stayed with me the most. From forests to deserts and everything in between, it's a wonderful thing to be able to celebrate.

I try to measure my success in terms of my own journey. I've been fortunate to travel through over 45 countries, each year guiding workshops both north and south from Iceland and Arctic Norway to New Zealand and Australia. Winning was a very proud moment and the exposure continues to allow me to share my passion for capturing nature with fellow photographers across the world.
